Get rejuvenated at the 2013 Fall Conference

Three dynamic women highlight the 2013 AAWCC Oregon Fall Conference to be held November 7 & 8, 2013, at Embassy Suites in Tigard. This year's conference theme is "Reboot, Refresh, and Restore: Igniting your Potential."

Gwendolyn Trice, native of La Grande, Oregon, moved back to the country after a career with Boeing in Seattle. Now located in Enterprise, Gwen has dedicated the past several years to uncovering and documenting her family's migration to the West-African American loggers in search of promise in the early 1900's. She is the founder and Executive Director of the Maxville Heritage Interpretive Center in Wallowa County & her efforts have rekindled an interest in eastern Oregon's rural history.

In 2013, Ms. Trice was appointed by Governor Kitzhaber to the Commission on Black Affairs to work for the implementation and establishment of economic, social, legal and political equality for Oregon's African American and Black populations. Hear how the transformative links to family, place and community play a role in shaping how she interprets her past, present and future.

Dr. Allatia Harris is the Vice Chancellor for Strategic Initiatives at San Jacinto College. In March 2013, she was selected to serve on the AACC Advisory Committee on Leadership Initiatives. She currently is President Elect and Legislative Liaison for the National AAWCC and serves on the AACC Council for Diversity, Inclusivity and Equity.

She has pursued doctoral studies at the University of Southern California in communication, and earned master's and bachelor's degrees in speech communication, both from the University of North Texas.

In August 2013, Dr. Nancy Golden accepted the position as Oregon's Chief Education Officer. With 30+ years of experience as an educational leader, Nancy formerly served as the superintendent for Springfield Public Schools in Springfield, Oregon from 2003-2013. She served as Educational Advisor to the Governor during the 2011 legislative session and continues to act as the alternate chair of the Oregon Investment Board. In 2011, Nancy was selected as Oregon's Superintendent of the Year.

President's Message

Cherie Maas-Anderson, AAWCC Oregon President

Welcome to our 2013-2014 academic year! It is always exciting to be involved in the work at a community college at the beginning of a new academic year.

During the past year, our Oregon AAWCC board has focused on providing you with a fantastic Fall conference. I hope that as many of you as possible are planning to attend the conference. The conference is going to be held on November 6 and 7 at the Washington Square Embassy Suites in Tigard, Oregon.

This year's conference theme is "Reboot, Refresh, and Restore: Igniting Your Potential." The conference program will offer attendees a wealth of options for professional development and renewal. I will be program chair this year, so if you would like to do a workshop, please contact me before October 15, 2013. The quality packed program reflects the hard work of several of our members with others throughout Oregon.

If our paths do not cross in person over the next few weeks, I wish you a very happy Fall term and an exciting new academic year.

Conference Will Provide a Variety of Topics and Events

Workshops,
Zumba, Concert,
Networking, and More!

In addition to the three great keynote speakers, several information workshops are planned for the AAWCC-Oregon Fall 2013 Conference. Included among those scheduled are wellness, technology, and leadership sessions. Re-Choired Element Chamber Choir, the award winning concert choir from Linn-Benton Community College, will perform. A reception for all guests will take place on Thursday afternoon, and a choice of activities will be offered Thursday night.

For early birds who want a good workout, a Zumba class will be offered on Friday morning before the conference resumes. Be sure to bring comfortable workout clothes if you'd like to participate.

A silent auction will be held to raise funds for AAWCC functions and scholarships. Donating to the silent auction is a wonderful way to promote your college and community while helping women attend our events. If you have an item or service you would like to donate, please bring the item to the conference registration desk, and we will do the rest.

Registration for the fall conference is $195. Register online at <http://www.aawccoregon.org/fall-conference/>. Reserve your room at Embassy Suites by October 15 and mention the AAWCC Fall Conference for the group rate. Visit the Embassy Suites website or call (503) 644-4000. The hotel is located at 9000 SW Washington Square Road, Tigard, Oregon.

Planting the Seeds for Success was the focus of the AAWCC Oregon Summer Conference

Approximately 135 community college colleagues attended this year's summer conference at the beautiful Oregon Garden Resort in Silverton on July 18. Speakers included Serena St. Claire from Rogue Community College on balancing home, work, and college; Donna Lewelling from Community Colleges and Workforce Development on statewide community college issues; and Cara Lee from Portland Community College on initiative fatigue.

Participants gained understanding of statewide issues, tips for fertilizing their personal and professional "gardens," and ways to stay fresh while tackling the latest innovative projects. Attendees were given the opportunity to explore the beautiful Oregon Gardens as well as meet and reconnect with colleagues from around the state.

OILD Participants Learn Leadership Skills at Silver Falls

Women from community colleges throughout Oregon attended the 20th annual Oregon Institute for Leadership Development on June 24 - 27, 2013. For four days, they participated in activities that allowed them to learn more about themselves and their leadership values while experiencing the natural beauty of Silver Falls State Park and Conference Center. The institute provides positive leadership development and connects women with community college executives and administrators from all over the state. Participants offered overwhelming praise for their time at Silver Falls:

Mary Schroeder from Chemeketa says "I feel so fortunate that I was able to attend this year's OILD Conference at Silver Falls! We had a great group of women with a good mix of personalities ranging from outgoing to those more reserved, and from a variety of positions at the community college they represented. I enjoyed the participation and teaching of women college presidents and vice-presidents. Our interactions were fun, thought-provoking, challenging, and very informative. I'm looking forward to Fall Conference in November!"

M'Liss Runyon from Linn-Benton comments "The conference at Silver Falls was really amazing and It was hard to leave because I fell in love with everyone! I made friends at other community colleges that I hope will last a life time, priceless. AAWCC is helping my leadership skills and my understanding of community colleges in Oregon, that rocks!"

If you have not attended OILD in the past, be sure to be looking for the application process at your college next year. Applications are due to AAWCC-Oregon around April 15.

Campus Connections

Umpqua Community College By Nancy Nowak

The Umpqua Community College AAWCC chapter has created a website on UCC's home page. Included on the website is a video honoring Women's History Month and featuring women from across the campus talking about who has inspired each of them to "fly with her own wings." Chapter members have also had opportunities to enjoy one another's company and conversation during a social hour that has taken place at a variety of off-campus venues in Roseburg. At the most recent gathering, after a stirring rendition of several songs from the musical Oklahoma!, we hatched a plan to organize a book group. Among the titles we are considering are Understanding and Engaging Under-Resourced College Students (Karen Becker) and Daring Greatly: How the Courage to be Vulnerable Transforms the Way We Live, Love, Parent, and Lead (Brene Brown). Our most exciting recent project involves bringing the film Girl Rising to UCC as a campus-wide event. In the spring, we organized and promoted the showing of this powerful documentary that presents nine girls from across the world telling their stories about the power of education to change their lives and the world.

Planning has just begun to continue our chapter's monthly off-campus social hours, with co-president April Hamlin in pursuit of prospective places in Roseburg for us to gather. We also intend to follow up the successful screenings on campus of the film Girl Rising with a service project promoting education for young women.

A collaborative project has been undertaken by Karen Sorensen of PCC and Nancy Nowak of UCC. As a birthday gift, Karen expertly created a website for Nancy's poetry, and after some trial and error, she was able to post her work, links, and other information to the site, www.nancynowakpoetry.com.

Portland Community College By Cherie Maas-Anderson

In May, we held a breakfast scheduled for the Southeast Center with Dr. Jessica Howard as our guest speaker. This summer, several PCC members attended the AAWCC Summer Conference held at the beautiful Oregon Gardens.

Southwestern Oregon Community College By Deb Nicholls

Due to staff turnover in recent years, the SWOCC Chapter became relatively inactive. However, one activity has remained strong! Last December, the Chapter once again delivered stockings filled with various items to the girls living at the Wineva Johnson Center for Girls and collaborated with the College's Softball Team to provide stockings for the boys and girls at the Belloni Ranch.

Southwestern is working hard to rebuild and is grateful to AAWCC Oregon for developmental support. Interest is being rekindled through a membership drive, quarterly newsletters, and a spring activity. Although budget constraints require careful decisions, efforts continue to potentially send several individuals to OILD and the Summer and Fall Conferences.

Five SWOCC students applied for the AAWCC National Scholarship recently and Carrie Ann Griffith was one of only seven students in the nation to be awarded a $500 scholarship from AAWCC National!

The SWOCC Chapter sponsored a kick-off luncheon on May 22 to familiarize potential members with the organization and plan for upcoming activities. The event resulted in the addition of several new members, including three students. To help raise awareness of Pancreatic Cancer, a 5K event (walk, jog, run – just Commit 2 Complete it!) took place on Saturday, June 8.

In addition to reinstating a student scholarship, Colleen Keen was selected to represent SWOCC at OILD 2013 and applications are being accepted from membership for the Fall Conference.

Chemeketa Community College

By Lynn Irvin

Chemeketa was very pleased to send two women to OILD last June. Heather McDaniel from Human Resources and Mary Schroeder from Information Technology were chosen from a pool of applicants to attend this wonderful professional development experience.

We have a newly formed chapter. Our kickoff program was a showing of the film, Miss Representation, on March 1. Miss Representation is a 2011 American documentary film written, directed, and produced by Jennifer Siebel Newsom. It explores how mainstream media contribute to the under-representation of women in influential positions by circulating limited and often disparaging portrayals of women. About 50 people attended including several AAWCC Oregon state board officers. We definitely appreciate the support from the state board!

The Chemeketa chapter organizational meeting was held on April 25. It was a brown bag lunch where we discussed a chapter mission, ideas for chapter activities, electing officers and yearly dues.

Lane Community College

By Donna Zmolek

In May, Lane's AAWCC Chapter heard from two dynamic women who shared the same administrative position. Career Technical Executive Dean Andrea Newton retired at the end of June, and Dawn DeWolf was hired as incoming Executive Dean, with the two of them overlapping in the position for a short time. AAWCC took advantage of this wealth of leadership knowledge and held a lunch and presentation for its members. The two leaders possess a vast amount of experience with each coming from quite different backgrounds which allowed them to offer unique perspectives and advice on leadership. The event was well attended, informative, and fun. It's events such as these that are the heart of Lane's chapter – coming together as women and colleagues to take part in professional development and strengthen relationships.

This year, Lane welcomes Kerry Levett, new Executive Dean of Student Affairs. She holds a PhD in Higher and Postsecondary Education from Arizona State University, and most recently held the position of Associate Vice President of Student Affairs at Finger Lakes Community College. Welcome, Kerry!

Mt. Hood Community College

By Christy Weigel

One very exciting thing that has happened this year is that MHCC hired its 10th – and first female – president, Dr. Debra Derr. Dr. Derr comes back to MHCC after 11 years gathering experiences in the Midwest. She was a former MHCC employee and member of our AAWCC chapter. Along with the arrival of Dr. Derr is a renewed energy in the local chapter. We have an interim board working to reactivate and invigorate AAWCC's presence at Mt. Hood Community College.

Rogue Community College

By Daniella Bivens

Rogue welcomes new AAWCC members Kathleen Johnson, Carmen Sumner, Amy Durst, and Bonnie Ryan. Congratulations goes out to Bonnie for her new position, Grant Project Coordinator, Pathways to Allied Health Professions (PATH) Allied Health Services.

Rogue's chapter would like to recognize members who are celebrating their recent graduations. Donna Osborne, RWC Counseling Secretary, graduated from Southern Oregon University in March 2013 earning a degree in Business Administration and a minor in Psychology; Daniella Bivens, RCC-Educational Partnerships, also graduated from Southern Oregon University in June 2013 earning a degree in Business Administration and a minor in Psychology. Both of these degrees were accomplished all while working full-time at RCC!

Cindy Harboldt, President's Office, is the proud grandmum of her third grandchild born on April 6, Lennox Lorena John Sanborn – it's a big name for a little girl born at 5lbs 14ozs.

AAWCC – RCC recently held their bi-annual $1.00 clothing sale and raised almost $1,000 in their efforts to support student scholarships and programs at the College!!! The annual graduation flower and water sale was held on June 15. The AAWCC-RCC Board Retreat was held August 9.

Our chapter organized their first Relay For Life team for the Josephine County Relay For Life Event on July 20-21, 2013, and had 20 people participating in the event. Together we are fighting for a cure!

She worked as a 2nd and a 6th grade teacher, and had the opportunity to teach for two years in an international elementary school in China. In 2000, however, while teaching a reading strategies class at a community college, she found that she thoroughly enjoyed working with adult learners. "It felt rewarding to teach children, but working with adult students was energizing. I found that adults brought a different kind of enthusiasm for learning into the classroom that could be inspiring." This new career focus led her to earn an MS in Student Personnel Services and then attend OSU to earn a PhD in Educational Leadership in 2011.
